For your edification, here is a copy of an important speech the president gave very late Friday night. (2:00 a.m.)

This nation must do great things. Last night, some moron with a knife tried to kill me. That was very mean, nor is it the first time that this unfortunate circumstance has occurred. [belch] It reflects the underlying circumstances of middle class America today. I will give you change. I feel your pain. We must open diplomatic channels with the elephants. They are trying to tell us something. Woe! Where was I? Right.. I feel your pain. Hey, look at that dude out the window with the machine gun! 3I think he's trying to kill me. Watch out! I feel your pain. Woe.

The President is being shot at right now. His speech will be continued as soon as his sanity is restored.

This is head idea thinker with a big nose ---. Please stay calm. Do not leave your seats. Do not stuff popcorn up your ears. Do not attempt to exit the building. I repeat STAY CALM, the president will be back as soon as the dude shooting him goes away.

- This is a continuation of the presidents speech which was interrupted two hours ago due to personal problems.

- I feel your pain. We must help6yuhbn the Bosnia people. We cannot let them be massacred. I feel your pain.

- This speech is reproduced without the permission of Bill Clinton, who is the president.

On Immigration

In our most ugly country today we have many foul and villainous aliens. The government has to put an immediate stop to this. All the most vile places send their unwanted poor people here to prey off of us in all our rich glory, using our tax money to support their worthless existence. I deeply resent this.

What I propose, then, fellow citizens, is to root out the impurities in our society by placing a $3 bounty on every dead alien turned in to the local immigration office. Actually, maybe the bounty should be lower, because I really don't think they are worth that much. Anyway, we should offer a reward of some kind to the most honorable men who kindly volunteer their services. Of course we won't actually pay them, but maybe deport them, as they are truly not fellow elitists if they would touch a gun. And the deportation officers would thus also have to be disposed of, since they will have also become impure by being near the middle-class scum. But we can all live with that, right? I mean, it would create more capital for the few of us left in our thither to happy land. I consider all this action favorable.

All means necessary must be used to purify our land, and at all costs we must strive forward, always evolving, always progressing, even if a fortunate side effectsuch as everyone is either deported or shot (with the exception of yours falsely) may result from my lack of effort combined with the hard work of everyone else. Of course everyone else who has not yet been shot will have to be deported as aresult of this work. The first step, though, is to kill any aliens, legal or illegal, be they from Mars, Jupiter, Venus or Neptune, and regardless of the number of antennae they are in possession of or whether they came by spaceship, metro, matchbox car, teledeportation, or sardine can. So go out and conquer yourselves!!!

Brain Pressure

Three days later, he sat down in his desk after school and prepared to sleep, but saw Mrs. Plimbum take a black case out of her pocket and walk towards him. He watched her suspiciously, but she laid the case on his desk and opened it very slowly. Out of it, she pulled an $100 bill and laid it calmly on Jim's desk. Then, she pulled nine more $100 bills out of the box, laid them on top of the first, and shut the box with a snap.

"If you can get a B+ average or better for this quarter, I'll give you this money." Mrs. Plimbum said. "I'm tired of you failing every test, and I'm tired of watching you sleep every day. You can go home now."

Jim stared at her, then picked up his bag and walked out of the room.

That night, he set his alarm for 2:30. He woke up, grabbed a Bible, a pack of matches, a bottle of rum, and slid down the drain pipe outside of his window. He ran across the empty street and into the woods. He ran until he couldn't see the streetlights, then he stopped, opened the Bible, soaked it with rum, and lit it. Then he cursed God three times and sat back to see what would happen.

In about five minutes, satan came puffing in, surrounded by a cloud of stinking soot. The devil wiped his clawed hands on his faded grey suitcoat, then took about a minute to catch his breath, because he had run all the way from Potomac, where he has had much business lately.

NEWS

Experimental (very very large) doses of the drugs dhsjksdhkhfc and triclotheoquadroquinoneodyncynomynopinoscentedobadowadawaconine have been given to a number of students at the Heights School. The results of these drugs are as yet unknown, but may include explosion of the brain (as 57% of the students at this school have not yet developed brains, this is a very unnoteworthy danger) or transformation into large water snakes with big poisonous fangs.

Three men were killed, mauled badly, wounded, and severely pecked by pigeons at Montgomery Mall.

Traffik

There are lots of cars driving very fast on lots of little roads, and even more cars parked on even more roads, not going anywhere. If you fall into either of these categories, beware of red vans.

WHETHER

Large falling particles of frozen water are predicted at frequent intervals during the month of January. Also in store for us this month are birds, airplanes, flying blueberries and rhinoceroses on bombing runs.

HAPPY NEW YEAR-GREETINGS FOR '95

Horoscopes

Aries (March 21-April 19): Good month in store for you due largely to the fact that you are reading this edition of the Flying News.

Taurus (April 20-May 20): Take advantage of an option of moving to Zrksinglanisburg to find your inner piece, which fell out while you were there on vacation.

Gemini (May 21-June 20): Think hard before deciding to attempt a concrete bellyflop from your bedroom window.

Cancer (June 21-July 22): Due to the nature of your zodiacal sign, I predict that you have little time to live.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22): An unexpected encounter with a sidewalk will render you an invalid and win you $3,489,762,154.03 in court.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Love may decide to enter your life. It may be fatal.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Stress individualism to the point of forming your own country (population: 1).

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Leo and Sagittarius are involved in a conspiracy to pull out your nose hairs with a blunt object as you slumber.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Consider all options at length before making a career move (dyeing your hair green) which could result in immense wealth in order to retain your current status of poverty.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Avoid run-ins with tall, dark strangers holding uzi's.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Any business proposition made by a fish, O.J. Simpson, or a purple, man-eating, hairy, spider-shaped thing named Stan, is probably not a good idea.

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20): The need may arise to nurse your wounded aura (don't forget to remove the projectile first).

Tapioca (Feb. 29): Traumatic experience, possibly digging up your lost neighbor, Herb, in your backyard, may occur sometime this month. (Flying News has counselors available at the rate of $3,439,264 per minute, with proof of purchase)
